

TiE Con Mumbai 2019 concludes with key takeaways and disruptive ideas

India's startups will create $500 billion in value by 2025 and India will create the maximum amount of value in this part of the world.
India is a growth track that is irreversible

Mumbai (6 February, 2019) -- The 10th TiECon Mumbai concluded on a high note after Mondadas Pai, Chairman, Manipal Global Education, asked Mumbaikars to think, imagine and create startups in content and fintechs because Mumbai is a hub for creativity and financial services.

"We have to do things with a sense of urgency," said Pai. Indian "Startups will create $500 billion in value by 2025...said Mohandas Pai, Chairman, Manipal Global Education, spoke at a session on. "India will create the maximum amount of value in this part of the world," saying this will be created through startups.

India's vaulted stock market investor Rakesh Jhunjhunwala, Partner, Rare Enterprises, said "we are on a growth path that is irreversible," when it comes to the Indian economy. He was speaking at TiECon Mumbai in a fireside chat with Atul Nishar, president TiE Mumbai. He said India would grow irrespective of the outcome of the elections, even as he would like to see the Modi government in power. "India is greater than its political parties."

This year's theme, 'Unexplored' focused on technology-driven innovation and disruption which will reshape businesses, and offer new opportunities and hidden threats. The 2-day program focused on the future of ideas, entrepreneurship and the leadership needed to embrace, navigate through remarkable breakthroughs and journeys we haven't fathomed so far.

TiECon is a key networking and mentor-seeking conclave for startups, and at the same time it brings investors in touch with a range of founders looking for funding.

Held at NCPA, Nariman Point, Mumbai, the closing day saw a raft of sessions on topics from The World is Fluid to The Big Power of the Small Screen and closed with a fireside chat with actor Katrina Kaif.
